Holly Bellebuono, MPA

I help bring bold initiatives to life

In my 30+ years supporting nonprofits and companies move their missions forward, I've been most proud to help those orgs that champion two causes near and dear to my heart: environmental health and women's empowerment, and I provide grant and strategy services to any company or program that embraces positive change.

I've worked with educational, human services and environmental nonprofits, as well as entrepreneurs, tech and innovation companies.

Work with me to infuse reliable grant management and strategy with purpose. I bring teams together, unite departments in their work, and provide seamless organization to complex processes.
